Introduction

The overnight market in India is the most active component of the money market. Lenders agree to lend borrowers funds only "overnight" i.e. the borrower must repay the borrowed funds plus interest on next business day.

The objective of this index is to measure the returns generated by market participants lending in the overnight market.

The index uses the overnight rate provided through "Triparty Repo Dealing System (TREPS)" for computation of index values. The details of TREPS are available on CCIL.

The methodology of index computation is given in this document.

Methodology

- Annualised weighted average rate published by CCIL at end of the day is considered for computation of index
- The annualized rate is converted to the daily rate for index calculation, by dividing the annual rate by 365 days
- The interest based on daily rate is added to the index value of the previous day
- TREPS with T+0 settlement is considered
- If next day is a working day then rate with 1 day maturity is considered
- If next day is holiday or Saturday, rate of "n" days maturity is considered, where "n" is number of days until next working day. For example on Friday, rate for 3 days maturity would be considered for computation of index on (Friday, Saturday and Sunday)
- The index is computed daily at end of the day
- The base date for index is January 03, 2011 and base value is 1000

Index Calculation

$$\text{Index Value}_T = \left\{ \text{Index value}_{T-1} * \left(1 + \frac{\text{Rate}_T}{36500} * \text{Number of days} \right) \right\}$$

Where:

T = current working day and T-1 is previous working day

Rate = TREPS Rate

Index Governance:

Index Policy

The indices use transparent, researched and publicly documented rules for its maintenance. These rules are applied regularly to manage changes to the indices. Index reviews are carried out periodically to ensure that each security in the index fulfils eligibility criteria.
